Mawer Individual Client Group Renamed to Mawer Private Wealth

Calgary, Alberta – Mawer Investment Management Ltd. (“Mawer”) today introduced Mawer Private Wealth as the new name for its private client division, reflecting the firm’s expansion of services available to private clients in recent years.

That expansion spans a dedicated tax and estate planning team and the tools to give clients a clearer, more complete picture of their financial lives. It also includes access to insurance and risk management through trusted partnerships, and a broader investment offering. And there is more to come.

"We listen closely to what our clients need, and Mawer Private Wealth is a reflection of that. Over the years, we've grown to support our private clients in more ways than one, and we're not done. What hasn't changed is our investment philosophy, our team, and our commitment to acting in our clients' best interests." David Buchanan, Director of Private Wealth

Mawer has been managing client assets for more than 50 years, with a consistent investment approach built on disciplined, long-term thinking. That approach is unchanged. Clients will continue working with the same teams and benefit from Mawer’s fiduciary commitment to act in their best interests.
