A monthly penalty tax of 1% is applied to RRSP contributions made in excess of the maximum contribution limits.

If an individual is over the age of 18, they are entitled to a cumulative over-contribution limit of $2,000 to an RRSP before the penalty tax is applied.

Please check your CRA notice of assessment to confirm your personal contribution limits.

Spousal RRSP Rules

Any amounts that may be contributed to an individual's own plan under their personal RRSP deduction limit may be contributed to a Spousal RRSP instead.

Please note that there is a 3-year attribution rule, which means that if funds are taken out within 3 years of a contribution, the money becomes taxable income for the contributing spouse.

Contributions to a Spousal RRSP may be made by a contributing spouse up to and including the year their spouse turns 71 (tax-deductible to contributing spouse), provided the contributor has available RRSP room.
